LITTLE PROGRESS IN MATCHES

SMATHERS POSTS $5,000 FOR LORD DERBY.

Lawson Will Send Articles of Agreement for Contests in Which Boraima Will Meet Lord Derby and The Abbet Scannel Wants The Abbot to Meet Cresceus.

There was little progress made in the matter of big matchmaking among the trotters yesterday, the only new development being the posting of $5,000 forfeit by E. E. Smathers at a conference called for 3:30 o'clock at a downtown office. During the day a tele-gram was received stating that Mr. Lawson was housed with a heavy cold and asking if both the Smathers and Scannell forfeits were posted. In addition Mr. Lawson's second secretary said that Boralma's owner did not see the necessity of so quickly sing of the preliminaries so far in advance stating that articles of agreement would be mailed during the day upon the acceptance of which the matches depended, but not hinting at any unusual clauses incorporated

Mr. Smathers accepted a receipt for his $5,000 check, reading "to be binding upon the signing of the articles of agreement," was shown Mr. Scannell's check for a like amount, and bowed himself out of the conference very pleasantly. Telegrams were sent to both Mr. Lawson's house and office requesting him to answer at once when the articles of agreement were to be expected.

Asked if he would name any especial date or track, Mr. Smathers said: "We will race him anywhere along our line of travel between the Detroit meeting and here that may be deemed advantageous. We are here to arrange race and I hope it may prove a good one that is all." He was accompanied by Trainer George W. Spear, Starting Judge Frank B. Walker, the widely known Grand Circuit chaser, Will Logan, Jr., and another, and the entire meeting lasted not above three minutes.

It was expected a lawyer representing Mr. Lawson would be at hand, but no one came to represent the Boston man. Now that the New York end of the two big matches is up. and Mr. Lawson has practically agreed to meet both the locally owned stars, the only races and the tracks over which to trot. In his challenge Mr. Lawson stipulated that the events be best three in five, and incorporate

Mr. Scannell said yesterday afternoon: "I haven't a doubt as to the making of both matches, and am agreeable to any conditions Mr. Lawson may name to bring the t we horses together. I bought the Abbot as an investment, and while it is not generally known. he has earned me well toward the purchase price. We got $5,000 at Brighton Beach, $10,000 at Boston, $1,000 at Hartford, $500 at Terre Haute, and $5,000 forfeit money at Lexington because of Boralma's non-appearance, he being sick. That is $21,500 gross: it costs something to carry a horse like The Abbot. insurance, trainer's bills, traveling and the like, still, he is but 8 years old and I am con-fident he will lower all trotting records during the senson at hand.

"I would like to match him at two in three to meet Cresceus again, and I would match him against Lord Derby. The latter I consider a very hard horse to beat with his wonderful speed. But Cresceus is a grand horse Were he sold to-day at auction what would he bring, I wonder? Forty thousand dollars! Why, I think he would sell for $75,000. And yet I look for The Abbot to trot vet a faster mile than his 2:02½, great as it may seem to you. He was not well, or at least hadn't regained his full strength the day he met Cresceus, yet eve what he did! Geers says he is wintering splendidly at Memphis, and he should be a better horse than ever this season. I wurely hope so. But for this matter of Mr. Lawson's challenge I had intended giving him every chance to take as low a record as possible, but of course I'd prefer matching him as I want to make him pay his way. "I received aneffer of $40,000 for him from Mr. Gerken at the time a match for $50,000 seemed possible, but I suppose the prospect of a match made the price affect his possible value. I don't expect to drive him myself, for I'd as noon have Alves, a horse I sold to Nathan Straus. for Speedway work, and would never pay that much for any horse to use on the road. Shadow Chimes is the only other harness horse I own, but I have two or three splendid saddlers.

"Tiook to see Shadow Chimes a sensationa pacer, and am well pleased with him. Geers likes him and looks to see him lower his record not a little during the season. They are in no way a bother to me, as all I have to do is pay the bills: no worriment whatever. I went to Lexington and to Boston, but did season at hand. I would like to match him at two in three hear from Mr. Lawson by to-day, and then, of course, all anxiety will be at an end. Mr. Ketcham, I learn, intends now to get Cresceus ready to race again, and I hope we may arrange to bring him and The Abbot again together. The public seems to want another match with no excuses for The Abbot on the score of sickness, and he surely trotted a remarkable mile here that day. I prefer all his or any fast horses, races to be at best two in three, then the public, I know, sees the liveliest, fiercest racing possible. After that they must tire some, for the strain is bound to tell. But Mr. Lawson wants it a three in five, so I shall race Boraima that way. If I race Crescens or Lord Derby I want them at best two in three.

Mr. Ketcham is expected here to-day and all will hall with delight the fact that Cresceus is to be out again after his stud season. Few expected Mr. Ketcham to retire the champion permanently as he is many notches above a badly used-up trotter. Poubliess his campaign many have been an arduous one but, then, as Mr. Scannell admiringly classed him, he is a built dog, and siways ready to race. It is now unlikely that the four-cornered race proposed by Mr. Gerken will be trotted unless the horses meet it some 207 class should Borshus defeat either. The Abbot or Lord Derby any heat he will probably reduce his record to the free-for-all class limit and the same applies to Mr. Smathers's big geiting. It now looks as if The Abbot may meet free-cora again and we shall doubliess esee him on specials against time if not too busily ongaged in matches.

Mere be to regain his title of champion there would be much call for his appearance everywhere. One thing, he is now wagon champion with his record of Tab, made at fairtford, and at Lexington hundreds saw Geers drive him a public mile in 2005, one forenous in Ordober, 1906.

BASEBALL. Spalding Calls for the Minutes of the League Meeting.

Unless somebody puts the screws onto N. E. Young within the next forty-eight hours the public will be in possession of the official stenographic minutes of the recent meeting of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs, during which the magnates wrangled over the Freedman-Brush at the scheme, the rent of Manhattan Field and the election of A. G. Spalding. In years gone election of A. G. Spalding. by the magnates have studiously avoided publicity and many matters of interest have been kept secret. For this reason the public has learned to discredit the League and its methods until even the integrity of the game itself has been in danger. Because of a question of veracity between A. G. Spalding and John T. Brush, however, the glare of the searchlight is to be turned upon certain proceedings which have created much speculation during the past two months. Brush in a statement published yesterday insisted once more that no trust scheme had ever been brought up or discussed at the meeting held here last month. This assertion was made in the face of positive statements to the contrary by Soden, Rogers, Dreyfuss, and others who took part in the discussion. In order to convince the public that an untruth has been told and also to show up sev spread amazement, Spalding sent to N. E. Young the following telegram yesterday morning:

Owing to conflicting statements regarding what actually occurred at the recent National League meeting the integrity of the League and the welfare of baseball necessitates the publication in full of a true account of the entire prucedings of this annual meeting; therefore I demand that you at once publish in pamphlet form an exact copy of the official stenographer's verbatim report which is now in your possession, and send a copy of same to the representatives of all the National League members as well as the press. I will beer the expense thereby incurred. Get quick action. Were answer Albermarie Hotel.

Young responded with surprising alacrity, Spalding getting this reply shortly after 5 o clock:

Will have the stenographic report printed as morning:

Will have the stenographic report printed as soon as possible.

Will have the stenographic report printed as soon as possible.

Then in order to clinch matters, Spaiding wired Young in less than an hour these instructions:

All right. Rush through the printing of it and mail me at Albemarie in tel one hundred copies which must reach me not later than Friday afternoon at 5 P. M., and sooner if possible.

Summing up the recent flood of correspondence in few words, it may be said that Spaiding has piled up evidence to show that the National League must be reorganized, with the substitution of new owners for those who have been accused of dragging the game in the mire.

President Johnson Talks Baseball. CINCINNATI, Jan. 14 - B. B. Johnson, President of the American League, arrived in the city to-day and conferred with John Bruce, attorney for the organization. He said the conference was as to routine matters.

"I see," said Mr. Johnson, "that the story has "I see," said Mr. Johnson, "that the story has been revived again of an American League invasion of Cincinnati. Let me say once and for all time that such a move was never contemplated by the American League, in fact, it was never discussed. Cincinnati is a good city for one good baseball team, but it would never support two teams like some of the larger cities, where continuous baseball is desirable. So long as there is another club in Cincinnati the American League will not consider the city available territory."

Speaking of the fight that is on in the National League, Mr. Johnson said that under no circumstances would his organization allow itself to be dragged into the controversy, "we are in excellent condition in every way," said Mr Johnson, "and there is nothing for us to do in this matter but to play the part of the interested spectator.

Mr. Johnson says that Joe Kelley positively has signed a contract with Baltimore and that Billy keeler will probably stick to Brooklyn.

E. C. Courtney, a California outfielder with a batting average of 300, has been signed by the Boston National League club.
CBICAGO, Jan. 14—Hugh Jennings will not be allowed to play in the American League this year. President Johnson announced last night that he is on the blacklist and that McGraw will not have the services of the star player in his inteld. The cause of his being pinced on the blacklist is the trouble which he had last summer with the Baltimore and Philadelphia managements of the American League.

The Jersey City Baseball Club of the Eastern League secured possession yesterday of the grounds of the Jersey City Golf Club, consisting of sixteen acres, bounded by West Side, Belmont, Marcy and Duncan avenues, Jersey City. The baseball club has also purchased six acres of land adjoining the golf grounds on the south from the Condict Land Company.

New York A. C. Defeats the Crescent Club

In one of the most exciting games of hockey ever witnessed in this section the New York Athletic Club team defeated the team of the Crescent Athletic Club last night at the Brooklyn rink, the score being 5 goals to & The game was a very rough one and several of the players were suspended by the referee for unfair tactics. At the end of the second half the score was a tie, each side having scored four goals. It was agreed to play an extra period of ten minutes or until one side had scored, and the New Yorkers made the winning goal after a minute's play. There has always been rivalry between these two teams. The Crescents have won the championship twice and each time the New Yorks have finished second.

The game last night began in a lively way.

The New York team got the puck, and after two minutes' play Jennison passed it to Hornfeck who shot the first goal. Then the roughness began. Kennedy was sus-pendedifor foul play. O'Donnell deliberately fell in front of the goal to stop the puck, and he was suspended. Dobby next scored for the Crescents after dodging through the

WRESTLING.

Max Lutther Beats Gus Dumont and Carl Schmidt-Plening Wins, Too.

Some exceptionally clever wrestling was witnessed last night at Miner's Bowery Thea-tre where Max Luttbeg of St. Louis is meeting all comers this week. Luttbeg met Gus Dumont of this city and although the affair. which was decided under catch-as-catch-can rules, lasted a trifle over six minutes there was plenty of excitement while the contest was in progress. Dumont had easily ten-pounds the advantage in weight, but Luttbeg went after Dumont and tossed him about at will. Luttbeg put Dumont's shoulders to the mat after three minutes, but the latter said that the fall was not a fair one and he said that the fall was not a fair one and he received another chance. Luttbeg had to down his rival twice more before he would give in. The actual time of the fray was 6 minutes and 14 seconds. In his afternoon essay Luttbeg met Carl Schmidt who by clever manguvring managed to stay the limit, fifteen minutes. The decision was a draw.

limit fifteen minutes. The decision was a draw.

Last night Fred Burns, Luttbog's manager, matched Luttbog to meet George Bothner. The affair will be decided on Friday night. Luttbog will attempt to throw Bothner in fifteen minutes or forfeit $50. Joe Walcott, the puglilst, has also been signed to meet Luttbog in a 15-round bout, catch-ascatch-can style.

John Plening, the "Butcher Boy," had a hard task with Charley Kamerer of this city, who tackled him last night. Kamerer permitted Piening to utilize all his strength and skill in turning him. Kamerer, on his back Piening applied hold after hold, which were broken. This was the order of things until at the cighth minute, when with a firm quarter Nelson Piening rolled Kamerer.

things until at the eighth minute, when with a firm quarter Nelson Piening rolled Kamerer over and pressed one shoulder to the mat. He held him in this position for a minute, when Kamerer dropped to a bridge and was thrown. The time was 9 minutes 15 seconds. Harry Shaeffer of Brooklyn went against Piening in the afternoon. The meeting was brimfull of excitement. Piening had a harder job than he bargained for, but eventually won the day by applying a full Nelson, which Shaeffer could not dislodge. The bout lasted 10 minutes and 32 seconds.

The 16-inch balk line tournament of the Hanover Club of Brooklyn, a leading event in amateur billiards and having a high-class entry list, was continued last night. RACEGOERS FRET AT DELAYS

KEPT AT NEW ORLEANS TRACK UNTIL DARK.

Horses Fifty Minutes at the Post for One Race—Only Two Favorites Win and the Talent Has a Disastrous Day —Large Attendance in Cold Weather.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14 .- Cold and threatening weather did not cut the attendance at the races this afternoon, but the delays in the fourth and sixth races caused a great deal of grumbling, and it was dark before the crowd left the track. It was a disastrous day for the talent, as only two favorites won. There was a fifty-minute delay at the post in the mile handicap. The barrier was broken frequently by Andes and Grantor. Grantor's bridle slipped in one of the break-aways, but before he could run away he was caught by Assistant Starter Murray. Lyne, Grantor's jockey, immediately tumbled off, thus probably preventing an accident. The winner turned up in Johnnie McCarty, 7 to 1. Jessie Jarboe, who was played down from 10 to 1 to 8 to 1, secured the place easily from Andes.
All bets were declared off in the first race,

All bets were declared off in the first race, as Van Hoorebeke had won a race which penalized him five pounds. Homage, the heavily played favorite in the second betting, just got up in time to beat out the 50 to 1 shot, Life Line. There were any amount of good things in the race, and it was far the best betting event of the afternoon. In the second race Lady Alberta, the favorite, won in a gallop from Choirmaster, the good thing of the race. Beauty Book beat Sandfica, a 100 to 1 shot, for third money.

Sir Kingston, the odds-on favorite in the third, finished in the ruck. Choice was the pacemaker until within five yards of the wire, when he was passed by Radford, who won by a head. The fifth produced an exciting finish between Pirate's Queen and Free Admission. The former was jammed in against the rail, but just managed to win Monos, the favorite, was badly interfered with, but was only beaten a half length, finishing third. Carl Kahler took the closing event from Kaloma in a desperate drive, after eading all the way. Summaries:

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

A. C. C. N. Y. Now Has a New Committee -C. R. C. A. Prizes Awarded

At the January meeting of the As ociated Cycling Clubs, held on Monday strik at the clubhouse of the Royal Archania Wheelmen, 262 West Ninety-ninth street, there was an attendance of delegates of fontion clubs and a protracted session unsheld that lasted till midnight. The Streets and Highways till midnight. The Streets and Highways Committee reported that the new commissioner had expressed his willingness to do everything in his power to help the wheelmen and would even take up some of the work neglected in the past. The race committee reported on the race of New Year's to Tarrytown and made the very sensible suggestion that if riders knew that some of their clubmates were waiting at the finish to take care of them they would work harder and make a better ride. A new feature was introduced by a motion made by the Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. E. V. Brendon, who proposed a pominating committee. This was opposed by former President James O'Neil, but it finally was carried and the following five members were appointed: E V Brendon, A. J. Heinrich, L. M. Fischer, C P Stinson and Edward Erbereux This committee is to name a ticket and mail a copy of it to all delegates on or before Feb I, so that there will be time before the annual meeting for any one who desires to do so to get up an opposition ticket. Heretofore the nominations for offices have been made sporitaneously from the floor on the night of the annual meeting The report of Dr. Brendon on the combination picetists over which he presided last Friday night was received with warm applause by the delegates of the fourteen clubs and the committee was authorized to proceed.

The award of prizes for the leaders in mile-The award of prizes for the leaders in mile-age and century riding during 1901, es an-nounced yesterday, is of peculiar interest because of the reographical distribution represented. The recipients of the first three prizes in each class live far apart. The fact is a strong testimonial of the strength of the C.R. U. A., which is composed of the seeders from the original Century Road Club.

the C.R. C.A. which is composed to the secoders from the original Century Road Club Harry Early of Bayonne, N. J., captures the mileage medal for 1901 by covering a total of 14,032 miles during the year. Gilbert C. Badeau of Far Rockaway finished second with 9,933 miles.

The century championship goes to Henry Veit of Brooklyn. His record is sixty-one certuries, including one quadruple, five triple of six double century runs. Isaac Gillett of Watervilet, N. Y. won second place by riding forty-foar centuries over the hilly roads in his part of the State.

The performances of Farly and Veit do not displace the existing century and mileage records made some years asso, but are the best recorded, unchallenged records made in the country in Inci.

The Pret century run of 1902 was made by W. H. Wickelback, 4r., of the association, starting at midnight, Dec. 31, and stiding over the Long Island course.
